

PRIVACY POLICY

1. Introduction

This website has been developed for use without disclosure of personal information by users. Visits and unique visits may be tabulated, but personal information will not be requested. If you should contact us through the site, you may provide personal information or it may be requested at that time. Any such activity will be external to your use and experience of the site.

We may share personal information provided by you as required by law. At times, we may share personal information in aggregate, such that no one individual can be identified. Other than as required to effectuate payment for goods or services, we do not share personal information with third parties.

The site is hosted exclusively from servers in the United States of America.

Please read this privacy policy carefully because by visiting or using the site, you agree to comply with it and to be legally bound by it under the terms of use. If you do not agree to comply with this privacy policy, you are not authorized to use the site.

2. General

Definitions used here are as provided in the terms of use.

“Cookies” are alphanumeric identifiers that are automatically transferred to your computer’s hard drive through your browser to enable our systems to recognize your browser and to provide certain features and to permit our system to recognize you when you log on. We do not now use cookies. We may use cookies and other technologies in the future to help us identify which parts of the site are the most popular, how easily users are navigating through the site, how much time is spent by them in each section or for other reasons. Cookies could also help us customize the user experience. If we should use cookies, you may disable them and may remove them from the place where they are stored on your hard drive; if you do, however, certain functions or areas of our site may become unavailable to you.

In the future, we may use tools to identify what pages of the site are visited most frequently and to evaluate the effectiveness of any search function on the site.

We may elect to use Google Analytics or similar tools that collect information about your browsing experience on the site. That information would be used in an anonymous way and not associated with a specific individual; however, by providing any information about yourself, you may also be sharing it with the analytical services provider, which may so aggregate and use those data under its own terms of service and privacy policy.

We may disclose any information provided via the site or related activities or facilities if required to do so by law or in the belief that doing so would be reasonably necessary: (a) to conform to the requirements of the law or legal directive, order or ruling; (b) to protect and defend the legal rights or property of the site owner, host, developer and related parties; or (c) in an emergency, to protect the safety of its users or the public. We do not knowingly collect information from minors. If a minor will be using the site in a manner permitted under the terms of use, it is the parent or guardian's responsibility to instruct that minor not to submit any personal information by way of e-mail or otherwise.

3. Deletion of Information

Should we collect personal information over the site, you may request that we delete that personal information collected about you once it is no longer needed for the purpose for which it was collected. To make such a request, please send us an email at the address shown below.

4. Changes to the Privacy Policy

From time to time, we may update or revise this privacy policy. We urge you to review this privacy policy from time to time for changes made to it and to refresh yourself with it.
